SUMMARY

In support of the College's self-study for accreditation, the Office of Institutional Research and Planning worked with the District Accreditation Committee to develop and implement faculty and staff surveys in spring 2003. Questions were formed based on new accreditation standards. Surveys were distributed to all faculty and staff at Miramar College through the campus mail at the beginning of the spring 2003 semester. A total of 107 surveys were returned with an overall response rate of 25%.

Characteristics Of The Respondents

- The faculty respondents were comprised of 37 contract faculty, 28 adjunct faculty.
- About 53% of the faculty respondents were females and 39% were males (8% missing).
- Staff respondents constituted 69% females and 17% males (14% missing).

Gap Analysis Of Teaching And Learning Resources

- DSPS, Admissions, Financial Aid Services, Independent Learning Center, and computer lab received high importance and high satisfaction ratings from faculty (contract and adjunct) and staff.
- Departmental teaching resources, availability of classes, adequacy of classrooms, and working space/office space received high importance but low satisfaction ratings from faculty (contract and adjunct). In addition, physical facilities were also rated high importance but low satisfaction by contract faculty and staff.

Results By Accreditation Standards

Standard One-Institutional Mission And Effectiveness

- Most of the faculty and staff reported that they were familiar with the college mission statement.
- Over three-quarters of the faculty and staff stated that improving institutional effectiveness is valued throughout the College.
- In comparison with contract faculty and staff, a smaller percent of adjunct faculty indicated that student learning outcomes are considered in program review and institutional planning.

Standard Two-Student Learning Programs And Services

- A majority of the faculty (both contract and adjunct) were generally pleased with the quality of instruction at the College.
- Compared to adjunct faculty and the staff, fewer contract faculty perceived that the College identifies and seeks to meet the varied education needs of its students through diverse programs.
- In comparison with staff and adjunct faculty, a lower percent of the contract faculty reported that the College uses qualitative and quantitative data to identify and assess student learning outcomes. Most of the faculty also reported that they had integrated written and oral communication and critical thinking skills into their teaching.
- A majority of the faculty indicated that the College supports academic freedom.
- Over 65% of faculty and staff believed that the campus environment is conducive to personal, aesthetic, and intellectual development of the student population.
- A majority of the faculty and staff believed that the College designs and implements programs, practices, and services that enhance student understanding and appreciation of diversity.
- Faculty and staff viewed Student Services at the College as having insufficient resources to meet student needs.
- Most of the faculty and staff indicated that the College provides ongoing training for users of library and other learning support services to develop information competency.
- Contract faculty were less satisfied with the adequacy of the library collection than adjunct faculty.

Standard Three-Resources

- Nearly 90% of the faculty and staff felt that they are treated with respect at the College.
- Most of the faculty reported that their performance evaluations have been conducted according to the contract/handbook guidelines.
- In comparison with staff and adjunct faculty, contract faculty were less likely to support the idea that effectiveness in producing student learning outcomes should be considered in the performance evaluation.
- A higher percent of the faculty indicated that the College systematically maintains and upgrades its physical resources to support its programs and services, as compared to staff.
- More than 80% of the faculty and staff felt that the campus grounds are pleasing and adequately maintained.
- Over three-quarters of the faculty and staff reported that the exterior features of the campus buildings are well maintained.

- About 57% of the contract faculty, 67% of the adjunct faculty, and 53% of the staff stated that the interior of the classrooms, offices, and restrooms are well maintained.
- Over 60% of the faculty and staff reported that technology planning is integrated with institutional planning.
- Most of the faculty and staff indicated that the College provides training in the effective application of information technology to faculty and staff.
- In comparison with adjunct faculty, a lower percent of the contract faculty and staff felt that the College systematically reviews and updates its technological infrastructure and equipment to meet institutional needs.
- A lower percent of contract faculty indicated that budget information is accessible throughout the College, as compared to the staff and adjunct faculty.
- More than 60% of the faculty and staff indicated that the college budget reflects college priorities and planning goals.
- About 8% of the contract faculty, 37% of the adjunct faculty, and 42% of the staff believed that the district resource allocation process is appropriate to support college programs and services.

Standard Four-Leadership And Governance

- In comparison with staff and adjunct faculty, contract faculty were more likely to feel that they have a substantial voice in matters related to educational programs, the hiring of faculty and other personnel, and institutional policies.
- About 53% of the contract faculty, 65% of the adjunct faculty, and 60% of the staff indicated that the role of leadership is regularly evaluated and the results are widely communicated to all stakeholders.
- Adjunct faculty were more likely to agree that the governing board's decision-making reflects the public interest as compared to contract faculty and staff.
- A majority of the faculty and staff indicated that the college president works and communicates effectively with communities served by the College.
- When compared to staff and adjunct faculty, contract faculty were less likely to believe that the District Office provides effective services that support the College in its mission and function.

BACKGROUND

An accreditation survey for faculty and staff was developed by the Office of Institutional Research and Planning in consultation with the accreditation co-chairs at the colleges. The survey was developed to inform the College's self-study for accreditation.

METHODOLOGY

SURVEY INSTRUMENTS

Development of the survey instruments was based on the new accreditation standards adopted in June, 2002. The new standards require the institution to identify student learning outcomes (SLO's) and measure their achievement as part of self-evaluation. Therefore, questions addressing SLO's were included in the survey (for more information about SLO's, see resources listed in the Accreditation Section of the Research and Planning website: <http://www.sdccd.net/research/>). Additionally, surveys included some questions from the district's 1996 faculty and staff surveys conducted for the college self-study. The final survey instruments include the following three parts (see Appendix G for actual surveys):

Part I-Teaching and learning resources: Twenty-four teaching and learning resources were listed in this section. Respondents were asked to rate the level of importance and their satisfaction with these resources.

Part II-Questions addressing accreditation standards: Questions (Faculty/Administrator Survey, 77 questions; Staff Survey, 68 questions) were constructed to address each accreditation standard and sub-standard. Most of the questions were four-point Likert-type questions and respondents were asked to rate the level of agreement with each question (4-strongly agree, 3-agree, 2-disagree, 1-strongly disagree, 0-N/A).

Part III-Background questions: Several questions (Faculty/Administrator Survey, 9 questions; Staff Survey, 8 questions) related to basic demographic and employment information were also included in the surveys.

SURVEY DISTRIBUTION

Surveys were distributed to all faculty and staff (contract, 97; adjunct, 236; staff, 90) at Miramar through the campus mail at the beginning of the spring semester 2003 (end of January, 2003). Additional surveys were sent to non-respondents at the end of February. See Table 1 for the response rate by survey groups:

Table 1: Miramar College Survey Response Rates

Miramar	# distributed	# responded	response rate
Contract faculty	97	37	38.1%
Adjunct faculty	236	28	11.9%
Unknown status		7
Total faculty	333	72	21.6%
Staff	90	35	38.9%
College Total	423	107	25.3%

Administrators completed the faculty survey. Ten respondents identified themselves as administrators. Some administrators reported dual roles as administrator and faculty (contract or adjunct); therefore, their responses were included with the total faculty responses (including 10 administrators) as well as contract faculty (including 3 administrators) and adjunct faculty (including 3 administrators) responses.

DATA ANALYSIS

Survey results were analyzed using descriptive statistics. It should be noted that when calculating the percentage of the responses to each question, “N/A” (not applicable, one of the 5 responses to survey questions) was taken out of the computation. The following analyses and comparisons were used to summarize the results:

Gap Analyses of Teaching and Learning Resources

A discrepancy indicator (gap) was computed by subtracting the level of importance (including “very important” and “important”) from the level of satisfaction (including “very satisfied” and “satisfied”) for the 24 teaching and learning resources listed in the survey. Gaps equal to zero indicated no discrepancy between perceived levels of satisfaction and importance, while gaps greater than zero (negative or positive direction) indicated a discrepancy. Large negative gaps reflect areas that were rated low in satisfaction, but high in importance.

When analyzing the survey results, high importance and high satisfaction areas are defined as areas which received 90% or higher importance ratings (including “very important” and “important”) and 90% or higher satisfaction ratings (including “very satisfied” and “satisfied”). In contrast, high importance but low satisfaction areas refer to areas which received 90% or higher importance ratings but 60% or lower satisfaction ratings.

Analyses of Questions by Standard

Percent of respondents who agreed (including “strongly agree” and “agree”) was calculated for each question. Results were summarized by accreditation standard and sub-standard.

Background Questions

Responses to the background questions were summarized by calculating the frequencies and percentages.

LIMITATION

Due to low response rate, caution should be exercised in generalizing the survey results.

SURVEY RESULTS

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE RESPONDENTS

A total of 72 faculty and 35 staff responded to the survey. The faculty respondents included 37 contract faculty and 28 adjunct faculty. Six (6) administrators identified themselves as having dual roles; therefore, their responses were also included in contract faculty (n=3) and adjunct faculty (n=3) responses. Following is a summary of the major characteristics of the respondents:

Faculty

- 51% contract, 39% adjunct (10% unknown)
- 64% classroom faculty, 17% non-classroom faculty (19% unknown)
- 53% females, 39% males (8% unknown)
- Largest ethnic group is white (47%)

Staff

- 26% supervisor/professional staff, 9% office/technical staff, and 65% other categories.
- Two largest departments: 40% from student support services areas, 20% from administrative support services
- 69% females, 17% males (14% unknown)
- Largest ethnic group is white (40%)

GAP ANALYSES OF THE TEACHING AND LEARNING RESOURCES

Areas with High Importance and High Satisfaction

(over 90% rated important and over 90% were satisfied)

Contract faculty— DSPS, Admissions, Financial Aid Services, Independent Learning Center, and computer lab.

Adjunct faculty— Tutoring services, Transfer Center, Admissions, Financial Aid Services, library resources, Independent Learning Center, and computer lab.

Staff— Transfer Center, DSPS, Admissions, Financial Aid Services, Independent Learning Center, and computer lab.

Areas with High Importance but Low Satisfaction

(over 90% rated important but less than 60% were satisfied)

Contract faculty—Cafeteria/Snack Bar, departmental teaching resources, availability of classes, adequacy of classrooms, assigned working space/office space, financial resources, physical facilities, and staffing resources.

Adjunct faculty—Departmental teaching resources, availability of classes, adequacy of classrooms, and assigned working space/office space.

Staff—Availability of classes, adequacy of classrooms, physical facilities, and student life/activities.

ANALYSES BY ACCREDITATION STANDARD

Standard One: Institutional Mission And Effectiveness

A. Mission

- A majority of the faculty and staff reported that they were familiar with the mission statement of the College (contract, 100%; adjunct, 85%; staff, 91%).
- Most of the faculty and staff indicated that the college programs, services, and planning are consistent with the mission (contract, 87%; adjunct, 79%; staff, 90%).
- Almost all of the faculty and staff perceived that the mission statement defines the College's broad educational purposes, its intended student population, and commitment to achieving student learning (contract, 97%; adjunct, 100%; staff, 97%).

1. I am familiar with the mission statement of the College.

2. The college programs, services, and planning are consistent with the mission of the College.

3. The mission statement defines the College's broad educational purposes, its intended student population, and commitment to achieving student learning.

Note: Percent Agreed includes "strongly agree" and "agree".

Standard One: Institutional Mission And Effectiveness (continued)

B. Improving Institutional Effectiveness

- Over three-quarters of the faculty and staff reported that improving institutional effectiveness is valued throughout the College (contract, 75%; adjunct, 82%; staff, 88%).
- More than 80% of the faculty and staff agreed that review of the programs and services is integrated into the college planning process (contract, 80%; adjunct, 83%; staff, 91%).
- About 79% of the contract faculty and 88% of the staff indicated that student learning outcomes are considered in program review and institutional planning compared to 67% of the adjunct faculty.

Standard Two: Student Learning Programs And Services

A. Instructional Programs

- Most of the faculty (contract, 89%; adjunct, 79%) were pleased with the quality of instruction at the College.
- About 69% of the contract faculty, 89% of the adjunct, and 91% of the staff reported that the College identifies and seeks to meet the varied education needs of its students through diverse programs.
- About 76% of the contract faculty, 85% of the adjunct faculty, and 58% of the staff indicated that the College provides alternate class scheduling to meet student needs.
- In comparison with staff and adjunct faculty, a lower percent of the contract faculty reported that the College uses qualitative and quantitative data to identify and assess student learning outcomes (contract, 55%; adjunct, 81%; staff, 76%).
- Most of the faculty indicated that they had integrated written and oral communication skills into their teaching (contract, 83%; adjunct, 82%).
- More than 85% of the faculty reported that they had greatly integrated critical thinking skills into their courses (contract, 94%; adjunct, 86%).
- More than 50% of the faculty indicated that they had integrated quantitative reasoning skills and appreciation of cultural diversity into their teaching.
- Faculty were more likely to agree that the official publications are precise, accurate, and current, as compared to staff (contract, 73%; adjunct, 82%; staff, 59%).
- A majority of the faculty (contract, 92%; adjunct, 86%) indicated that the College supports academic freedom.

APPENDIX F

SURVEY COMMENTS

MIRAMAR COLLEGE ACCREDITATION SURVEYS 2003 - Comments
Code	CONTRACT FACULTY COMMENTS
548	We really need leadership for Information Technology at the District level. Two people left in the last 2 years. Who is in charge now? Why are these positions vacant? How can we ignore technology? We can't just let a vendor decide our information tech. needs. We need leadership and a cohesive plan to provide effective teaching and learning.
558	It is disproportionate. (#56 - The District resource allocation process is appropriate to support college programs and services.) College as whole - yes, instruction - no. (#57 - The College systematically assesses the effective use of its financial resources.) Seen evals but no results. (#64 - The role of leadership is regularly evaluated and the results are widely communicated to all stakeholders.)
533	Decentralize the District offices (aka "The Wind Tunnel") and move them onto the campuses. It is often hard to tell if they know what the word "student" means. Revamp the current budget development model. It is very outdated and inequitable to the smaller colleges. Reduce the disproportionate amount of non-credit by changing it to credit offerings.
	ADJUNCT FACULTY COMMENTS
554	Restrooms are Dirty .
526	The bathrooms in the I-building are always dirty and smell terrible. Student Services shuts down too early on Fridays. They should be open until at least 5:30pm when many evening classes start. The book store should NOT close before 6pm on the first Friday of the semester because Friday evening students need to get their books and lab manuals, especially if the bookstore does not have Saturday hours. The lab classrooms in the A100 building are not cleaned very well. The floors in particular are often very dirty.
525	As an adjunct, my on-campus contact is limited, thus limiting my ability to respond fairly/accurately to many items.
516	The entire District is dysfunctional. The District administrators are the most incompetent that I have ever seen.
507	What does this mean?! (#39 - Systematic assessment of effective use of physical resources is integrated in institutional planning). At bad times for adjuncts. (#50 - The College provides training in the effective application of information technology to faculty and staff). The Miramar district has failed utterly to support service to MCAS Miramar and to defend its military programs from invasion by outside districts. It has consistently not capitalized on opportunities to grow. Its leadership is utterly gutless and its financial status heinous.

505	College strives to do so. (#2 - The college programs, services, and planning are consistent with the mission of the college.)
	Some complaints from students about other instructors. (#9 - I am pleased with the quality of teaching and instruction here.)
	Better than most colleges! (#23 - In general, do you feel that student support services at this college are adequate to meet student needs?)
	But much more is required that I disagree with to some extent! (#32 - The criteria of hiring faculty include knowledge of subject matter or service to be performed, teaching ability, and the potential to contribute to the mission of the institution.)
	ADMINISTRATOR COMMENTS
571	Miramar College has almost doubled in size over the past 4 years. However, there is no process in the District to reallocate funds to reflect the shift.
	Seriously underfunded compared to other 2 colleges.
	Students suffer because we have no athletics (1 team), no musical groups, no drama, no stage, and no way to get them because of the District's funding allocation formula.
	Students deserve a comprehensive learning experience and a way needs to be found to even out the funding of basic co-curricular activities between City, Mesa, and Miramar.
